About Imagination Library

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library is an international program organized locally by Clare-Gladwin Regional Education Service District (RES D) that emphasizes the importance of reading to children during their preschool years to give them a boost toward a successful education.

This program provides children who are under the age of five and residing in the school districts of Beaverton, Clare, Farwell, Gladwin, or Harrison with a FREE, age-appropriate book every month until their fifth birthday.

To participate, parents simply enroll their child by completing an Imagination Library registration form available at Clare-Gladwin RES D or print the registration sheet off the website at www.cgresd.net and mail to Clare-Gladwin RES D.

How Can I Help?

Imagination Library is funded exclusively by grants and private donations. If you would like to donate funds to support this gift to your community's children, please complete the donation form on the back of this page and return to Clare-Gladwin RES D.

"The kindness of our community sponsors has given the gift of more than 10,000 books to nearly 1,000 local children this year!"
